

University of Arkansas, Bachelor of Interior Design, Student Achievement Data

Job Placement: 100 percent of May 2017 graduates who actively pursued employment were employed within nine months of graduation. Most had employment immediately following graduation.

Acceptance into Graduate Programs: None of the May 2017 graduating class had applied for graduate school as of March 2017.

Graduation Rates: 80 percent of the 2017 Bachelor of Interior Design graduates completed their degrees within four years. The remaining 20 percent completed the degree within five years.

Attrition Rates: For interior design students, the attrition rate is highest during the first semester of studio. Of freshmen enrolled in the fall 2016 semester, 37 percent changed majors or left the university before the spring 2017 semester; an additional 2 percent left the program during the spring 2017 semester.